

Invitation to participate in the COEVA Assurance Passport professional pilot programme

ORIGIN Technologies is preparing a limited number of controlled external pilots with professionals and organisations to assess, using a specific AI system, whether COEVA Assurance Passport makes it easier to organise, trace, review and reconstruct claims, evidence, gaps and decisions.

OBJECTIVE OF THE PILOT

Assess whether the relationship between claims, evidence, gaps, actions, owners, reviews and decisions can be organised in a more efficient, traceable and reconstructible manner through COEVA Assurance Passport.

WHAT WE NEED

- 01 · Take part with one AI system or representative use case agreed in advance.
- 02 · Assess objectively its usefulness, clarity, time required and points of friction.
- 03 · Where appropriate, involve a second independent person in the reconstruction test.
- 04 · Take part in a short final interview on usefulness, recurrence and the purchasing process, with no commercial commitment.

CONDITIONS

- No cost, no card details and no commitment to purchase.
- Maximum expected duration: 14 days.
- Scope limited to one system or use case agreed in advance.
- Authorised, minimised data only; preferably fictitious, anonymised or pseudonymised.
- Does not constitute certification, an official audit, legal advice or a regulatory compliance statement.
- The pilot may be suspended if an uncontrolled legal, privacy, security or integrity risk arises.

PROFILES OF INTEREST

Compliance · Risk · AI governance · Audit · Assurance · Privacy · Cybersecurity · Product · Technology · Owners of systems using AI

WHAT WE WANT TO LEARN

We are not looking for positive feedback out of obligation. We want to identify precisely what adds work, what is unclear, what fails and whether the result would provide enough value to be reused recurrently within an organisation.

NEXT STEP

A short conversation to explain the pilot, confirm the use case and agree in advance the scope, permitted data, roles and processing conditions. Formal participation will remain subject to legal/privacy review and acceptance of the scope.

CONTACT

Haineto Guerra Roger

ORIGIN Technologies
contacto@origenassurance.com
origenassurance.com